DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) THE NAMES OF THE PARTIES TO A JOINT RESEARCH AGREEMENT.
- (e) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC.
- (f) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
  - (1) Field of the Invention.
  - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (g) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
- (h) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (i) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (j) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (l) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

Drawings

New corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in this application because the drawings are not legible. Applicant is advised to employ the services of a competent patent draftsman outside the Office, as the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office no longer prepares new drawings. The corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The requirement for corrected drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. the specification does not adequately describe what level, form or characteristics of speech the claimed "sub-units" represent and/or how they are constructed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Robinson (5,983,180) and in view of Hon et al. (6,629,073).

As to claim 1, Robinson teaches a speech recognition method comprising: representing a vocabulary/lexicon translated into a tree structured HMM network, wherein said vocabulary is described in a tree made up of nodes, branches and leaves (Fig.10);

decoding a word by means of a Viterbi decoder; pruning traversed branches and leaves in the tree, and where transcriptions are defined that describe phonetic units used by a language model (Col.12, line 53-Col.13, line 21; Figs.13-15, 18-25).

Robinson doesn't explicitly teach where the Markov model is described sub-units. Hon teaches a speech recognition method comprising lexicon, language model and acoustic model for providing probabilities, wherein the acoustic model dynamically utilizes both acoustic units and acoustic sub-units (Col.8, lines 1-22; Figs.4-10).

The combination of the two teachings would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention for the purpose efficiently determining the sequences of a hypothesized words when the larger acoustic units do not provide a desirable probability distribution

As to claim 2, Robinson teaches wherein words of the vocabulary that are different but that present identical phonetic segments at each respective beginning of the words share, for the branches of the tree for the identical phonetic segments.

As to claim 3, Robinson teaches wherein said phonetic units include phonemes.

As to claim 4, both Robinson (Fig.25) and Hon (Fig.4) teach where said phonetic units include both context dependent and independent phonemes.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Robinson (5,983,180).

With regard to claim the corresponding voice recognition system for performing the steps of method claim 1, except for the limitation of constructing the Markov sub-units, is analogous and therefore rejected by Robinson under same rationale of claim 1.

As to claims 6-7, Robinson teaches wherein said phonetic units include context based phonemes as shown above.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Takami et al. (5,677,988).
